Short-Term Missions - Risk Statement

This Risk Statement is to advise participants of the potential risks involved in working in foreign nations and to realize and take full responsibility for the consequences as one assumes those risks. We ask that you gather as much information as you feel necessary and, when you are completely satisfied and confident that this is what you want to do, read this form and if you agree, sign and return the application form. Keep a copy of this form for your records. We count it a real privilege to assist you in your desire to participate in reaching Europe with the Gospel.

Risk Statement

I understand and acknowledge that there are certain risks and dangers associated with international programs and travel, including (by way of example and not limitation) air plane and vehicle accidents, hijacking, kidnapping, piracy, terrorism, criminal activities, civil unrest, mishaps of lodging and eating, disease, serious medical effects from exposure to radioactive or other hazardous materials, illness, inadequate medical care, and death. I also understand there may be other risks involved of which I may not be presently aware.

NLI's goal is to advise all participants in short-term/prayer missions of the assumed risks associated with mission work in a foreign country. In addition, we encourage you to prepare yourself for service through a number of ways:

- Prepare yourself spiritually, physically and mentally for service.
- Read all you can on the country of service.
- Contact your government office, such as the U.S. State Department to obtain the most up to date information on the area.
- Preventative medical treatments (such as vaccinations) and medicines may be necessary for travelling and residing in some foreign countries. It is your personal responsibility to: (i) seek advice from your personal physician to determine what, if any, treatments and medicines are recommended, (ii) procure them, and (iii) use them at your own risks.
- Take any additional steps you feel are necessary.

I understand and will assume these risks, whether such risks are known or unknown at this time.
